

Chapter 1. Section 1

Welcome

This e-book comprises the weekly sets of notes that I prepared to accompany a combinatorics course that I taught at Queen Mary University of London.

The course divides into roughly five sections: basic principles, recurrence relations, generating functions, graph theory and transversals.

There are few, if any, exercises within the text but each chapter is accompanied by a set of reasonably substantial questions with solutions.